Water Study Necessary in Santa Anita

Engineers Say Claims Can Not Be Settled With Known Data

to Join in the Study of Collecting Information

An adjourned meeting of the joint engineers' committee appointed by the division of water rights for the purpose of compiling necessary data required in the study of the capacity and the use of water in the Santa Anita underground unit, was held Saturday morning September 29, in the office of the division of water rights, Los Angeles, at which meeting interested parties submitted a part of the hydrological data now available.

There are many complicated problems involved in the pending water controversy and a large amount of data must be obtained for the purpose of arriving at a satisfactory compromise. A considerable amount of the data now at hand can be used. However, there is a great deal of information yet required, as there never has been a comprehensive study made of the Santa Anita Basin, such as has been made of most of the other basins in the San Gabriel Valley.

There has been a series of flow measurements made of the local streams in the mountains but no study has ever been made of the runoff, percolation, capacity of the basin and amount of surface water flowing to waste beyond the border has there been a complete record of the water levels in the wells of the basin.

The office of Engineer O. A. was selected as the headquarters for compiling and assembling the required data, to work in conjunction with Engineer Watson of the City of Arcadia, as Mr. Gerlich is organized to handle this class of work efficiently, as he and his brother have made an extensive study of underground water supply in this section of the San Gabriel Valley extending over a period of years, and he has a large amount of data which he has accumulated and which is being made available for this investigation.

The engineers of the other participants in the controversy, viz., Monrovia, Arcadia and Oakwood Syndicate, are also obtaining data relative to their particular interest, which will be furnished as available.

It is proposed to pro-rate the cost of this investigation among the four interested parties on the following basis: The cities of Arcadia and Sierra Madre, 35 per cent of the cost each; Monrovia and the Oakwood Syndicate, 15 per cent each. It was tentatively estimated that the total cost will be approximately $1000.

Davis to Speak At Congregational Church Oct. 14th

Dr. Ozora Davis of Chicago, Moderator of the National Council of Congregational Churches, will speak at the Congregational Church on Sunday evening October 14 on the occasion of the dedication of the Fred Staff Memorial Room. Dr. Davis is president of the Chicago Theological Seminary and has occupied several of the most influential pulpits of the country. He is a speaker of great ability and will bring a message of challenge to the church of all. Inasmuch as Dr. Davis will be in Southern California for a few weeks, the opportunity is given to the people of Sierra Madre to consider most unusual.

Mrs. V. S. Vaupel announces that the Wistaria Beauty Shop has taken the local agency for the well known Colonial Dame aids to beauty. As a means of making them familiar to Sierra Madre women three days next week will be devoted to demonstration work with free facials and counsel on individual needs.

Mrs. J. H. Robertson has been teaching the past week at the public school during the absence of Mrs. Duncan who was kept home by illness.

Local Elks Attend Dedication Ceremony at Monrovia

Sierra Madre Elks tied out practically a hundred percent to attend the dedication of a magnificent new Elks temple at Monrovia, Tuesday night. The occasion was notable for a large number of high officials of Elksdom who were present from all parts of the United States. Heads of practically every lodge in Southern California were present. Grand Exalted Rule Murray Hurlburt of New York City presided at the ceremonies while the address was given by B. James G. McFarland of Watertown, South Dakota, past grand exalted ruler. The new building has been referred to as one of the finest structures from a point of beauty and adaptability in a United States and seems destined to be a center for social affairs in the San Gabriel Valley. A number of local citizens are expressing great interest in the Monrovia lodge and local Elks are hopeful that the membership here can be greatly extended during the next few weeks.

Local Band Preparing Program

Indoor Concert Looks As a Possibility in the Near Future

With an added interest in their work, following the fine success of their first concert, members of the recently organized Sierra Madre band met for rehearsal Monday night with several new selections being offered up for inspection by Director Leland Auer. The rehearsal was held at the home of Mrs. L. Auer.

Many enthusiastic comments are still being made concerning the recent concert, and the suggestion has been made that the band arrange a concert for presentation indoors at an early date.

The net rehearsal will be held Wednesday night, the change in meeting night being made because of the absence of the director, who is playing with the orchestra at the opera in Los Angeles. New members will be welcomed and visitors will be given a cordial welcome. Parents of boys and girls interested in band instruments especially are invited to drop in at the rehearsals, which are held at the Congregational Church.

News is Now Established In New Home

Move is Made This Week to The New Kersting Building

With carpenters and painters putting the finishing touches to their work, the News moved into its new home Monday. The official designation is No. 9 Kersting Court, and the place is the new building just completed for Charles S. Kersting who has built business blocks equal in frontage to all the rest put together. And this new building crowns them all for beauty and utility.

Although the work of the decorators is not yet completed, the attractive features of the building will bring a message of challenge to the church of all. Inasmuch as Dr. Davis will be in Southern California for a few weeks, the opportunity is given to the people of Sierra Madre to consider most unusual.

While the new force has been working under something of a handicap this week, all the heavy machinery is in place and operating. Much remains to be done in arranging desks, but the commodious working quarters with an abundance of light and daylight and splendid night illumination have already put a life into the whole News staff.

Guy D. Stoberger underwent a sinus operation at Pasadena hospital on Tuesday. He is at present confined to bed at his home but is expected to be progressing nicely.

Scholarship Group Named At Assembly

New Officers are Installed At Wilson Junior High

Student Body Officers Are Named After Spirited Election

Officers of the Woodrow Wilson student body for the coming semester were chosen Monday after a spirited campaign which was featured by caucuses, nominating speeches, acceptance addresses and all the regular events. In addition to having two of the four officers of the scholarship society in Ruth Klunk and Emanuel Silbermann, Sierra Madre students were chosen for the two leading officers of the student body. Leroy McBurney was named president, Catherine Sinnott vice president, Hildreth McDavid secretary, and Louis Lalonde treasurer. George Meredith, assistant superintendent of schools, addressed the Scholarship Society and the student body at an assembly at Woodrow Wilson Junior High on Friday. The program was in charge of the Scholarship Society. The orchestra played while the members of the society marched in and took their places in the center of the auditorium. The program was as follows: "Mignonne Overture," J. Bauman; Orchestra; "Cavatina," Raff, Margaret Head; presentation of new officers, Bertha Lee Fitzgerald; address, Mr. Meredith.

Mr. Meredith in his address pointed out the value of forming good friendships at school. He also said that the A1 student should be a good athlete, a good citizen, a courteous individual, and a good scholar.

The new officers of the Scholarship Society are, president, Jean Cromley; vice president, Ruth Klunk; secretary and treasurer, Virginia Fennell; historian, Emanuel Silbermann. Faculty advisors, Miss Pauline Handy, Mrs. Anna Mary Magnuson and Miss Mildred Scott.

The members of the society for the semester are as follows: Donald Wheeler, Elizabeth Burman, John Trevor, Joe Shapiro, Walter Moore, Mary Alice Dicke, Kathleen E. Moore; Martha Newton, Doris Wood, Thelma Hartman, Bernice Lindgren, Ruth Pitternick, Dale Babcock, James Gabriel, Earl Ruppert, Michi Nomura, Eileen Walrod, Mildred Newton, Dorothy Keep, Dorothy Graham, Gertrude Graham, Gertrude Bandy, Rose Brown, Ruth Carter, Ruben Weiss, Hildreth McDavid, Persis Kreinbring, Orville Wright, Selwyn Myers, Edward Lowell, Uri Chandler, Mary Selby, Leonora Pridham, Florence Miller, Ruth Klunk, Margaret Mead, Bertha Lee Fitzgerald, Jeanne Antisdale, Marguerite Hawley, Lois Marie White, Leslie Wakefield, Herbert Quick, Martha Cromley, Elizabeth Morgan, Adele Sellers, Gaylord Fox, Sadie Seltz, Carrie Fox, Myrtle Belle Cartwright, Carrie Hora, Maxine Mucklow, Edward Ballard, Lawrence Silberman, Moe Rosen, Emanuel Silbermann, Elizabeth Spencer, Ernestine Manning, Cynthia Hull, Virginia Fennell, Doris Booker, Marion Kravetz, Wilbur Van Gundy, Robert Curtis, Pauline Hillman, Dorothy Disbrow, Marcel Segers, Richard McMillan, Stanley Knight, Catherine Sinnott, Oleta Reynolds, Irma O'Brien, Beatrice McKown, Madeline Kenney, Gertrude Outnecht, Jean Cromley, Betty Lester, Pearl Specht.

Mrs. Fred C. Albrecht entertained on Sunday in honor of the birthday anniversary of her husband. Six guests were present to enjoy a duck dinner at noon, and in the evening fourteen guests were entertained with a buffet supper. During the day many other friends called to offer congratulations to Mr. Albrecht on his birthday, and also to Mrs. Albrecht on her greatly improved health. Mr. Albrecht was the recipient also of many beautiful flowers, as well as gifts from eastern relatives. Mrs. Albrecht was assisted in entertaining by Miss Ruth Cornuelle, Miss Johanna Saenger, Miss Lorena Hardenburg, and Mrs. Platte.

Douglas Murphy Going to Venice To Famous Ship

Douglass S. Murphy of the Sierra Madre Cafe will leave next week for Venice where he becomes one of the proprietors of the famous Ship Cafe. In association with George Baker, former manager of the Wilshire Country Club, he will reopen the place under the name of "The Pirate Ship of Venice Pier." It has been closed while undergoing a complete course of overhauling and redecorating.

Messrs. Murphy and Baker have been associated in the past in a number of prominent country clubs and tourist hotels. Both have had extensive experience, Mr. Murphy having charge of the dining room and Mr. Baker of the catering.

The opening date for the Pirate Ship will be Oct. 18. Texas Guinan has been booked for the opening attraction and the place will be made a lively part of the night life of the beach region.

Al Markham will remain in charge of the Sierra Madre Cafe. His father, Harry Markham, is taking Mr. Murphy's place in its operation. They will continue operating it along the same lines, paying particular attention to quality of the food and good service.

Local Team Drops First To Hazzards

Visitors Outrun Sierra Madre Team in Race Around the Bases

The first of the Sunday afternoon ball games was more spirited and interesting than the final score of 17 to 8 would indicate. For a long time it looked like the Hazzard Club of Los Angeles had the better of a very one-sided argument. But when the locals staged a rally in the 8th and put seven men over the plate the crowd had something to get excited about.

Manager Scott made good his policy of securing none but high class organizations to visit the local grounds. He started out with the determination to book no rough-neck outfits and made the purpose plain at the Monday evening managers' conference in Los Angeles. On the other hand, he says the Hazzard manager reported good treatment in Sierra Madre, at the conference. The game next Sunday afternoon will be with the T. A. Alaria Athletic Association. The game will start promptly at 2:30.

The box score as compiled by John Carey will tell the story of last Sunday's game more thoroughly than many, many words would do. Hazzard A.C. AB R H PO A E

One of the interested visitors in the News office this week was Miss Carrie Holden, sister of Mrs. C. F. Gray, who has recently returned from an eastern trip. Having been associated with her father in the printing and stationery business in Alton, Ill., and having been through the vicissitudes of moving a printing plant, she was able to offer sincere sympathy.

Officers of Legion Take New Places

Ceremonies Held in Masonic Temple Following a Dinner

R. W. Stewart Officiates With Many Visitors in Attendance

The officers of Sierra Madre Post 297, American Legion, were installed by District Commander R. W. Stewart at a ceremony held at the Masonic Temple last night. Preceding the installation the ladies of the Auxiliary served a dinner to about fifty members of the Post and Auxiliary and their guests. It has become a custom for the Unit to tender a dinner each year in honor of the incoming post officers.

Following the ceremony Rev. Father Edwin Ronan, the chaplain of the post, past and present, again presented some unexcelled entertainment. He secured the services of Noodles Fagin and his daughter, Mary, and Jimmie Hare, Pantages circuit vaudeville headliners, and those who have seen the inimitable Noodles Fagin and Hare on the stage know that "a good time was had by all." Jimmie Hare is a singer of repute and rendered several numbers, among them being a new song by Oscar Rasbach, whom the singer complimented. Two vocal solos by Miss Tracy, accompanied by Miss Ninteman, both of Sierra Madre, were much enjoyed.

Out-of-town guests attending the ceremony and entertainment included the newly installed commander of Monrovia Post, Ted Lavason, accompanied by his first and second vice commanders. Mr. Lavason gave a short speech, stating that Monrovia had already sixty-six paid-up members for 1929 and expected to reach the 300 mark by December 1. It is the opinion of friends of Monrovia Post that they will do it. From Arcadia came Victor Covell, commander, Billy Atkinson, jovial past commander; Mrs. Helen Best, newly elected Unit president; Mrs. Olwen Covell, past president and district chairman of Community Betterment, and Mrs. Wm. Atkinson. From Lamanda Park, Mrs. Gunter Helin, president, and Mrs. Frank Smithson, newly elected president, who will be installed next Tuesday, accompanied by Mr. Smithson.

Past Commander Robert Steinberger came up from Santa Ana to preside at the beginning of the post meeting and was presented with a past-commander's watch fob as a token from the members of the post.

Officers for the year will be as follows: Commander, H. C. Reavis; first vice commander, O. W. Carlson; second vice commander, Dr. C. N. Barker; adjutant, Henry Olsen; finance officer, Roy Pickett; chaplain, Father Edwin Ronan; historian, Ben Stinman; sergeant at arms, A. H. Embree; executive committee, George Norris, R. O. Caukin, H. H. Steinberger, A. T. Evans, Henry Olsen, Dr. Harold Elk.

Sierra Madre is now the home of a new business firm, known as Pulling Sales Company. Pulling Sales Company is the distributing agency of a large manufacturing company which specialize in business signs of a particular design, with the use of illuminated neon gas. A. E. Pulling, of 382 W. Montecito, for the past 17 years, has been connected with a large distributing concern, only recently resigning, and is now fully established as manager in the new concern.

The News is in receipt of postcards this week from two Sierra Madre travelers in the north. W. J. Lawless who is on a motor trip with a Los Angeles friend writes from Seattle that the northwest is the place for a young man. S. R. G. Twycross who is enroute to his old home in Maine sends a card from Lake Louise in the Canadian Rockies which he says is "some place."

Walter Heber of the News force is attending the state Elks convention at Santa Barbara as a member of the Pasadena Elks' band.

Mrs. Luther Gilson Passes Away After Years of Ill Health

Mrs. Luther Gilson, a resident of Sierra Madre for several years, passed away last Friday night at the home, 42 West Mira Monte Avenue, after an illness extending over a long period. She was 73 years of age and had resided most of her life in Wisconsin. In addition to her husband, Luther Gilson, to whom she was married 25 years ago, she is survived by one sister, Mrs. S. L. Case of West Allis, Wis.

Funeral services were conducted on Monday in the Grant chapel by Rev. A. O. Pritchard, pastor of the Congregational Church, of which Mrs. Gilson was a member. Interment took place in Rosedale cemetery, Los Angeles.

Dwight Hollister, a former resident of Sierra Madre, passed away on September 21 at his home on Huntington Drive, South Santa Anita. He had been a wholesale egg dealer for many years. He is survived by his wife and two children, Charles and Lillian.

Smith Folk Get to Work In Campaign

Mitchell Building is Fitted Up for Active Election Work

For the first time in at least two decades political interest in Sierra Madre has mounted to the point where campaign headquarters have been opened for work in behalf of national party candidates.

Smith and Robinson supporters, headed by W. J. Schiltz, have taken the Mitchell building for the purpose, decorated it with bunting, posters and campaign literature. A new note was injected in campaign methods by installation of a radio set. Nightly campaign talks broadcast from city headquarters are picked up for the edification of those who wish to sit in.

Kinney Ranch Is Reported To Be Sold

Rio Grande Oil Man Is Announced as Purchaser of Landmark

Sale of the famous Kinneloa Ranch, two miles west of Sierra Madre, was reported this week. The ranch consists of 520 acres, largely in the high mesa close to the mountains and northwest of the old Sierra Madre villa. It was established by the late Abbott Kinney more than forty years ago and for many years was one of the show places of Southern California. Since his death it had been held by the Kinney estate.

Lloyd E. Lockhart of the Rio Grande Oil Company is announced as the purchaser of the ranch and the consideration is said to have been $600,000. No announcement is made as to the plans of the purchaser.

Helen Hunt Jackson wrote her famous novel, "Ramona," while she was associated with Kinney as a member of the Indian Commission. In a later novel, she wrote a story centering about the ranch, in which Kinney was "Connerloa" and the ranch, "Connerloa Ranch."

Announcement of the engagement of Miss Ina Young to Mr. Ralph E. Davis was made last week by Robert Bruce Young of Pasadena, the young lady's father. Mr. Davis is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Davis of 659 West Alegria Street, Sierra Madre. The wedding is planned for June. The announcement was made at the Davis home on the occasion of a double shower in honor of Mr. Young's other daughter, Miss Mary C. Young, and Miss Ruth Hill, also of Pasadena, who are soon to become the brides of Andrew J. Davidson and Harry C. Ertle.

Subscriptions To Red Cross Total $857.00

Although Original Quota is Exceeded Added Gifts Are Urged

Voluntary Subscriptions Will Do Much to Lighten Workers' Task

Sierra Madre chapter of the American Red Cross had received contributions for Florida hurricane relief amounting to $857 yesterday afternoon, according to announcement of Chairman W. R. Humphries. Another $400 had been added to the $450 reported last week as already remitted to San Francisco headquarters.

Contributions have also been promised by a number of people who have delayed bringing or mailing the money to headquarters. Mr. Humphries urges prompt payment as the need is urgent and the chapter officials wish to make full remittance promptly.

Nobody should feel grieved if they have by chance been missed by the solicitors. That is all the more reason why they should take it upon themselves to come in and make a voluntary contribution.

Miss Edith Chaffee will be in Sierra Madre October 10 and 11 to work with the local chapter for the forthcoming annual Roll Call. Miss Chaffee is well known here and her visit is looked forward to by the directors and members of the local Red Cross.

Next Monday afternoon at 2:30 at the Pasadena Y.W.C.A., Miss Adelia Hoyt of Washington, D. C., will talk on the activities of the Red Cross as regards the work among the blind. Miss Hoyt has charge of the Braille work in the Congressional Library. All are invited to this interesting afternoon.

The following contributions have been made since the last report: Carl Pegler, $1; Miss E. S. Kaplan, $1; Dr. A. Brady, $5; Harry C. Hedges, $5; Mrs. Ella Brock Ellis, $10; Mr. and Mrs. Charles P. Hatcher, $5; The "B" family, $5; Clara M. Larjar, $1; Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Morrow, $4; R. C. Copenhaver, $1; Flora E. We're on a fast train and going somewhere ---clear the way

THE leaders of our town are saying: "Full Steam Ahead for the Rest of the Year."

There's room for everyone who has Faith—faith in yourself, your neighbors and your city.

Throw away your hammer and get a horn. Let's make this the best city of its size in the United States. And when we say "Best" we mean just that.

Teamwork will do it!

Get started now. Be a booster. At home or away from home talk about your town, boost it, praise it to the skies. Boost our program of civic expansion. Get out and root for the old home town. Spend and save at home.

Business brings prosperity. Civic improvements, loyal team-work, faith and enthusiasm bring success.

Interesting News Notes from Sierra Madre Canyon

(Continued) the welcome address and response was made by Taylor Renaker of the Monrovia Club, which sponsored the local organization. The gavel was then turned over to "Jack" Eberle, district lieutenant governor, who called upon "Bill" Feeler of Monrovia, to repeat his address on the "Constitution" which was so favorably received by his own club last

Mr. Eberle and the musicians, speakers, and particularly the members of the Woman's Club who prepared and served the excellent dinner for the occasion. The meeting closed with the singing of a specially composed song entitled, "Sierra Madre, Ain't She a Wonderful Town."

A. L. Smith Passes Eighty-eighth Year In Journey of Life

Almon L. Smith of 602 Mariposa Avenue celebrated his 88th birthday Monday. Telegrams of congratulation were received from eastern friends as well as gifts from relatives and friends. A birthday dinner was served and a birthday cake with candles was a feature of the celebration. Mr. Smith is a native of New Hampshire but spent nearly 60 years of his life in Boston, in which city he was in business for fifty years. When a young man, Mr. Smith came on a western trip, including a visit to Los Angeles, which at that time was but a large town, the business section having but one good hotel. Mr. Smith has spent many winters in California, but owing to increasing age, 7 years ago he purchased his present home and has remained continually in the California sunshine.

Barlow Home Fine Setting For Wedding

Ceremony Takes Place Before
Altar Erected in the Gardens

The home of Dr. and Mrs. W. Jarvis Barlow was the scene of a charming wedding ceremony Saturday afternoon when their daughter became the bride of John P. McWilliams, son of Dr. and Mrs. Thomas McWilliams of Cleveland, Ohio.

For the ceremony an altar covered with large white chrysanthemums and Michelmas daisies was erected on the front courtyard terrace of the home. Dr. McWilliams, father of the groom, officiated and was assisted by the Rev. George Davidson, rector of St. John's Episcopal Church, Los Angeles.

Mrs. Catherine Lent Barlow, sister of the bride, was matron of honor, and Miss Catherine Ware, the brides' cousin, was maid of honor. Edward Robbins of Cleveland was best man and the ushers included Charles Howard of Chicago and Dr. Richard E. Ware of Los Angeles.

The bride wore a gown of white Brussels point lace over white satin with a long tulle train adorned with pearls. The pearl bordered veil was held in place by a pearl band. She carried a bouquet of white orchids and lilies of the valley.

The matron of honor wore rose chiffon velvet gown made with long sleeves, and carried pink roses and valley lilies. The maid of honor wore a frock of the same fabric and carried pink roses and blue delphinium.

After the ceremony a reception was held and supper was served with the guests seated at small tables in the gardens. The company included a number of guests from Cleveland and New York.

Cabaret-Dinner Dance Novel Affair at Club House

The social season of the Woman's Club will be formally ushered in on October 20, according to Mrs. Carrol E. King, chairman of the ways and means committee, who announces a cabaret-dinner dance on that date.

It is to be a very novel and unusual affair with Mrs. J. Milton Steinberger and Mrs. R. M. Finlayson in charge of the entertainment features, which in itself assures those in attendance of a clever offering.

Further details will be announced next week, but in the meantime save October 27 as a red letter day on your social calendar. It will fulfill your fondest expectations.

Music for the evening will be furnished by the Prince Pep Orchestra. Mrs. Homer Glidden is in charge of the decorations.

Mrs. Lovetta Hicks Pratt gave a group of readings on Sunday on the homecoming program at Grace Methodist Episcopal Church, Long Beach.

Langdon Comedy Closes the Week With Many Laughs

The comedy and humor that enlivened the spirit of the men at the fighting front in the late war have been depicted in many films. It remained for Harry Langdon to depict the humors of recruiting soldiers for the war on the screen. He does it to the uproarious enjoyment of fans in his latest First National comedy, "Heart Trouble" coming to the Wistaria Theatre tonight and Saturday.

Amazing contrasts incorporated in a logical story that grips, with outstanding performances by a great aggregation of players, makes Paramount's "Forgotten Faces" which starts Sunday, an exceptional picture. It's a "crook" story of unusual interest.

Harry Beaumont, famous as the director of recent John Barrymore successes, as well as "Babbitt" and "Main Street," directed Ramon Novarro's spectacular new Metro vehicle "Forbidden Hours," which comes Tuesday. It is a vivid modern story of European court life with Novarro in the role of a king in a plot of court intrigue. Renee Adoree is the heroine, and a notable cast appears.

If plans now being formulated by the Los Angeles chamber of commerce are carried on to maturity, every community in Southern California will engage in what promises to be the most unique Christmas celebration in many years. The plan will be to seek cooperation of chambers of commerce in every community to co-operate with residents in urging the decorating of out-door Christmas trees. The trees will be highly illuminated at night through the Christmas season and will furnish a spectacle that will excite great admiration from thousands of visitors to the Southland.

Six state picnics will be held all day Saturday in Sycamore Grove park. The last picnics of the year for three states include Arizona, Nevada and New Mexico. The annual fall picnic of Kentuckians and Tennesseans will be held the same day. Pennsylvanians will also gather at this famous park Saturday, while on Sunday, the annual summer picnic of the South Dakota State association will be held in the park.

Proof that all hunters are not sportsmen was discovered in the Santa Rosa Mountains last week by searching parties seeking to pick up the trail of M. E. Phelps, 79-year-old Hines resident, who was reported lost in the mountains. The searchers discovered twenty does, fawns and spike bucks killed by hunters and abandoned.

E. J. Webster celebrated his 82nd birthday anniversary on Tuesday with a dinner party at his home, 121 East Alegria. He had as guests for the happy occasion his nephews and nieces, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Webster of Bell, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Goodwin and daughter of Los Angeles.

ANCIENT BABYLONIA WILL BE SURVEYED FROM AIRPLANE

Special Type Planes and Cameras
Necessary Because of Dangerous
Nature of Flying.

London.—Ancient Babylon has come under the surveyor's rod, and is to be measured from the air next April, according to the contract just made between the Iraq government and a British aircraft firm.

Under the terms of the contract, 1,000 square miles of the country along the Tigris river to the north and south of romantic Bagdad are to be surveyed and photographed preparatory to charting maps of the district, which includes Opis, the ancient Babylonian city which was sacked by Cyprus 2,500 years ago.

Due to the dangerous nature of the flying, most of which will be done over areas where there are no accommodations for landing, the keenest interest has been manifested in the project. Further interest has been aroused by the fact that special type planes and cameras will be used.

Observer will be so placed in the plane as to command an unobstructed view of the ground and their plane will be so powerful as to permit their returning to the aerodrome on one engine if necessary.

Meanwhile antiquarians are aroused by the plans since it is considered likely that such methods of exploration will open the way to the discovery of ancient cities and ruins that have hitherto been inaccessible.

Aerial photographs have already been responsible for considerable scientific discovery and it has been suggested that the way has now been opened to a further study of the famous terraced villages of central Africa.

Since the company which has been commissioned to make the survey of Babylon has also been engaged to conduct similar ventures in Rhodesia and central Africa, the results of their initial attempt are being watched with the greatest interest.

Fishing Trawler Solves Fate of Missing Vessel

Halifax.—That she had become entangled in heavy wreckage which, when hauled to the surface, proved to be the last of the ill-fated Gloucester fisherman Columbia, lost with all hands in the disastrous gale of last August, was the tale brought to this port by the captain of the National Fish company trawler Venosta. The wreckage was encountered in latitude 43.25 north, longitude 61.52 west, or about 115 miles south-southeast of Halifax. The Venosta was engaged in trawling at the time.

While no name was apparent on the resurrected schooner, Captain Wyhre of the Venosta and other members of the crew were positive that it was the wrecked Columbia. Captain Wyhre was familiar with the appearance of the vessel, and the flood lights of the Venosta permitted a particularly good view.

The drum and bugle corps of the South Pasadena Post, recently adjudged the best organization of the kind in the state, will represent California at the national convention of the American Legion to be held in San Antonio, Texas, October 8 to 12. Efforts will be made to bring the 1929 convention to Los Angeles.

The California Newspaper Publishers Association and the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce are making extensive plans for the entertainment of a group of distinguished British journalists who will visit Southern California late in October.

Now that a radio-television play has been broadcast successfully, we must find a shorter and uglier word for the thing. Perhaps a rave; or, worse still, a moodio.—The New Yorker.

ANOTHER BIRTHDAY

PERHAPS it is especially fitting that the first issue of the Sierra Madre News in its new quarters should be the first number of a new volume. This week the News celebrates a birthday by beginning its twenty-third year of publication.

The News ranks among the pioneers in comparison with most Sierra Madre business institutions. Few newspapers in Southern California have been published so long. And still fewer are the editors who were in the harness when the writer came to Sierra Madre twenty years ago.

Yes, we're getting along in years. But that does not necessarily mean growing old. So long as a man can meet the test of a young heart and a capacity for learning he can claim a certain immunity from age. The same tests may be applied to business institutions. And the News will aim to maintain a spirit of wholesome youth with advancing years.

WHAT'S THE MATTER?

WELL, here we are again, asking what's the matter with our city government.

Once upon a time a city administration hired a firm of experts to install a complete accounting system. They loaded us down with a system so complete that it would have required a 50-per cent increase in the city payroll to keep it going. Most of the forms were discarded, though some are still in use.

Now we seem to have gone to the other extreme. The city clerk keeps enough records to satisfy the requirements of state supervision, and keeps them well. But there seems to be something wrong with the system when an electric motor with a second-hand value of $400 can escape from the city's possession, to be rediscovered largely by chance.

The city has a real accounting problem in hitting the happy medium between too much and too little. But it would seem there ought at least to be a general property inventory which could be checked up occasionally.

MANY CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS

NOVEMBER 6 will bring another election to California voters. On the ballot for this election there will appear some twenty-one proposed amendments to the state constitution.

Thinking people are beginning to question the practice of presenting to the electorate every two years numerous changes in the state constitution. Certainly such a practice should not be encouraged. Changes in the fundamental law of our state should be made only with extreme caution and after serious and thoughtful deliberation. Too often certain individuals or communities, with a local problem to solve, barred by a constitutional provision, seek relief through an amendment which, if adopted, becomes state-wide in its effect, thereby throwing down the bars and presenting the opportunity for abuse and destroying the very safeguards so ably constructed by the original framers of the Constitution. An amendment to the state constitution should be presented to the electorate only when there is a state-wide demand for it.

It is impossible for any individual or group of individuals to determine the ultimate effects of the amendments adopted from time to time. Serious consequences may easily follow the adoption of amendments by the electorate who cannot always become thoroughly informed as to their present intent or ultimate effect.

The responsibility upon the voter is great. When the time arrives, in November, to mark the ballot, the voter must consider every amendment from the standpoint of the state as a whole and not from the viewpoint of his community or his particular interest.

An amendment should be the result of a fully crystallized public opinion. When a voter is in doubt as to the propriety of any amendment, he should vote "No."

RESULTS SEEM DISAPPOINTING

COMPULSORY automobile liability insurance has been advocated because it is alleged that it will assure the financial responsibility of drivers, reduce accidents, and lower insurance costs. While thirty-eight states have voted down proposals for such compulsory insurance, only one state, Massachusetts, has established state-wide compulsory automobile liability insurance.

The value of such a law is questionable. It makes many citizens buy insurance unwillingly. It makes insurance companies issue insurance on undesirable risks. It makes insurance agents do more work for less pay. It affords no protection to citizens against the recklessness of drivers of cars from other states. It prevents no accidents, as more people were injured and killed in Massachusetts in 1927 than in 1926 although there are fewer cars licensed. It has caused the insurance companies such serious losses that no decrease in insurance cost can be expected—rather the reverse.

THE AGE OF OIL

WITH the one exception of the art of printing, it may be doubted if any single industry has brought so many sweeping changes to the world as has the modern production and use of petroleum," says the Daily Chronicle of The Dalles, Oregon.

"With all its progress, all its technical and scientific achievements, the world has found no substitute for petroleum as hand-aid to the vast mechanisms of the industrial age. The multiplication of petroleum-driven vehicles has converted this vast continent into a neighborhood, has increased the output and lightened the labors of the farm, has made the world's industrial progress possible and has had its effect on every phase of modern life.

"Americans know, and other nations know, that petroleum is the source of much of the wealth and progress of the United States."

Oil has made us great. And today we are entering a new oil era, with a new efficiency, a new business and scientific genius that will give this industry a still greater part in American history and prosperity.

AN HOUR ON THE RAILROAD

IN one hour 5,903 cars are loaded with revenue freight on the railroads' lines and 146,240 tons of freight are loaded in the cars.

Passengers numbering 94,731 board trains, and the passenger service accomplished in one hour is equivalent to hauling 3,841,106 passengers one mile. The freight service performed is equivalent to hauling 48,929,381 tons one mile. In an hour, the railroads earn $700,491 from their transportation operations. They spend $522,166 for operating expenses, $332,102 for wages, and $42,935 for taxes.

Present rail transportation service is the best we have ever had and the best and most reasonably priced in the world. The railroads' tremendous activities are the backbone of our industrial and social life.

THIS is why Henry Ford is for Hoover.

He says: "The worst thing that could happen to this country would be a step backward in our fight against liquor. I am interested in anything to keep the eighteenth amendment as it is. If Hoover stands on that belief, and I am sure he does, I am for him. Repeal of the amendment would be a calamity, but there is no possibility of it. Personally, I'd turn out the army and navy to stop bootlegging. If the law were changed we'd have to shut up our plants. Everything in the United States is keyed up to a new pace, which started with prohibition. The speed at which we run our motor cars, operate our intricate machinery and generally live would be impossible with liquor. No, there is no chance even of modification."

Reservations

By J. R.

All the heroes in the '45 will be not get to France. Reservations learned today of a man who, from every moral standpoint, could qualify for a basket full of congressional medals—and still fail to secure adequate recognition.

The story goes back some years ago when two childhood sweethearts took the solemn vows that made them one. The wife had been "cured" of an incipient case of tuberculosis. Came children who had every appearance of health, and happiness and contentment reigned in a modest home.

And then the grim shadows. The wife succumbed to a recurrence of the dread disease. The oldest child became afflicted and to his affliction was added a mastoid abscess. The youngest child also showed a trace of the malady that had apparently been successfully cured in the mother.

The husband and father is a valued employee of one of the largest organizations in the great near-by city. For months his wife has been in the hospital; for weeks past he has been taking the oldest boy daily to the hospital for treatment.

During the past few weeks his associates have noticed that "John" appeared somewhat listless; he seemed to have lost his former zest in his duties. He had always been of a retiring nature, and his associates began to notice an added lack of enthusiasm. "Poor John; he seems to be slipping," was a frequent comment.

And then one day "John" went to his superior with a request for a few days leave of absence. He was reluctant to state his reasons, but finally showed a letter from the hospital in which his wife was being cared for, telling him that she could live but a few days longer, and he wanted to be free to go to her bedside.

During all these months "John" had uttered no complaint; his associates had absented; no inkling that everything was not all right. "John" may fail to receive his just reward on earth, but somewhere, somehow, there is wonderful happiness coming to him and his loved ones.

Out of the golden mid-west came last week an old friend—now one of the nation's elect—James G. McFarland, past grand exalted ruler of the B. P. O. E. He came to California to assist in dedicatory services for two wonderful Elk temples, one in Monrovia and the other in Ventura. "Jim" rose from exalted ruler of a small town lodge to the highest office in the gift of a great fraternity thru sheer force of personality. His is an instant understanding of his fellow's sorrows and joys; he is a big brother to the needy—a fine "pal" to his associates. His address at Monrovia Tuesday night could scarcely fail to make better Elks of the good Elks who heard him speak.

"Jim" MacFarland is "at home" officially, in Watertown, South Dakota, Lodge 838, but he is one of the best known and best loved Elks in all Elksdom.

Now that the school situation seems to be in the "hands of its friends" (we hope) so to speak, Reservations can hardly restrain longer from taking up another matter that seems particularly needful of attention from Sierra Madre residents. We're referring to the Volunteer Fire Department. First, a few facts, concerning the situation:

The Volunteer Firemen of Sierra Madre have in their care the safety of this foothill community in regard to fire and water. It is an organization of twenty members, selected because of their fitness for fire duty and retained for faithfulness to said duty. Their "pay" is $2 per month—if they attend the semi-monthly practices. They buy their own caps, shirts, rubber coats, and other articles of clothing. If they are called out in the day time to fight a fire they are paid the munificent sum of one solitary dollar per hour, for their services. If they are called out at night they get two dollars, and fifty cents an hour for all over one hour's time. They return half of their monthly stipend of $1 to the club treasury. If a member misses a practice, he loses a dollar.

To digress: You will remember the Illinois doctors' association that decided to refuse to answer calls in homes where there were unpaid bills for former services?

One hesitates to think what would have pointed out a bare fire department members decided, the next time the whistle blows, that it was hardly worth the trouble to respond. A fire might go out of its own accord, of course, but if the fire department should decide to act in this manner it is quite possible that visitors in Southern California have pointed out to them a bare spot on the mountainside, with the information added, "That used to be Sierra Madre."

There isn't room in this column this week to go on at length about the fire department, but

The attractions of the new home of the News just now seem sufficient to keep us anchored for quite a while to come. Light and air are "two of the fondest things I is of." And the new shop has plenty of both. Even though the building is so new we haven't had time to get used to it yet, familiarity with many printshops makes me feel more than ever like chirping, "there's no place like home."

MY ORIGINAL LANDLORD—

When I played my great April Fool joke on this community by taking over the News on April 1, 1908, the plant was located in the frame building which then stood at the Southwest corner of Central and Lima. The building originally housed the Norris Grocery which Mr. Norris later moved across the street to the building adjoining his residence. In 1908 the building was owned by the Bishops of candy fame. Later it was torn down and some of the lumber was used in erection of the house now standing on the site and occupied by Capt. Peacock.

On the advice of C. W. Hill, my predecessor as publisher of the News, I decided to move the shop down to the new business center at the corner of Central and Baldwin. C. S. Kersting had only a little earlier completed the brick block in which the bank was located. I went to the bank to inquire for him as he was then its president. H. G. Flint, the cashier, said I would probably have to phone him at his home. He was not spending much time in the bank because of the attractions of a young baby who had just joined the family.

But Mr. Kersting did come down and we made a deal as a result of which the News shop was moved down to the room in the bank building which it occupied continuously until our next-to-the-last move on August 31 of this year. He continued as owner of the building for some years. And I'm ready to add my testimony to that of many others of his tenants that he is one good landlord.

A BLOW—

Reminiscing like this brings afresh the feeling of depression which I have hardly been able to escape since reading in the papers last week of the trouble which has befallen the Flint family. It is the sad story of a bright and popular youngster, brought up in his father's business, using funds entrusted to the bank for his personal speculations. The fact that he had made some fortunate investments which gave him confidence that he would be fully able to carry out his intention to pay it all back did not alter the irregularity in the eyes of the law.

I understand the amount was not so large as reported in the daily papers, and that the deficiency was made up so the bank's clients lost nothing. The sad part of that is that it took every dollar accumulated by the father in a career in which he had earned for himself a reputation as an indefatigable worker, a capable banker and a man of absolute integrity.

PLENTY FOR AWHILE—

In spite of the showers of good wishes and bouquets that have come our way during this moving epidemic I've had enough for a while. After the unaccustomed exertion of moving furniture, lending a hand on imposing stones, machinery, etc., I find my fingers do not behave very well on the typewriter keys as I try to do a little night work by way of catching up. So I'm going to call it a day and rest my weary bones, wondering how many sore joints will need lubricating when I awaken in the morning.

No doubt the fact is being driven home in certain quarters that all work and no pay will not elect the Republican ticket.—Weston (Ore.) Leader.

A murder farm has been discovered in California, and the next thing you know those murder farmers will be demanding relief.—Indianapolis News.

It would seem that the undertakers who provide those $15,000 funerals are Chicago's real beer barons.—Arkansas Gazette.

there will be some more later—about their Christmas Fund, and their other good deeds. And Reservations will leave the subject this week with the statement that we're ashamed of the present arrangement under which Sierra Madre gets such splendid protection for such a pitiful outlay of cash.
